I hope you all had a restful Labor Day weekend. I know I needed an extra day to recharge my batteries.

This week, I will continue to assess students on the Beginning-of-the-Year benchmarks. I am looking forward to our parent conferences next week. Your children have been working very hard at school. I am excited to share your child's accomplishments with you.

You will find a conference schedule on the back of this newsletter.

A few reminders:

- The books that are sent home for homework will be all different reading levels. I do not expect your child to know how to read all of the books. Just enjoy the experience of sharing different kinds of stories with your child.
- I send home water bottles to be washed every day. Please wash and send them back the next day. It is hot at recess and P.E. Our little guys and gals get very thirsty.
- If your child brings a lunch to school, they need to have a drink in their lunchbox.
- I check texts, Dojo and email after school. You may always call the office and leave a message, if needed.
- I upload my weekly newsletter to my page (Alisa Webb) on the school's website each Monday afternoon.
- Each Wednesday your child will go to the library to check out a new book. Please keep library books in your child's backpack, unless they are reading it.
- Each Friday your child may bring an item for Show-and-Tell.
- Lexia may be used at home for extra practice.
- Each Monday, unless Monday is a school holiday, I will post an activity on Seesaw.
